for idealists

Uniform components boasting a clear structure and light, smooth materials provide the rooms with a distinctive character. Accurate shapes and discreet accents emphasising the modern living atmosphere are all that matters.

The straight-line design of LINE and the geometric motif of PYRAMID are an ideal addition to this modern, clear interior concept.

for individualists

Progressive interior design tending to contemporary chic calls for individual, extroverted design elements. Light wall colours, creative decoration and expressive furniture form a harmonious entity. With its fascinating plasticity and three-dimensional illusion of grid points different in size, AVANTGARDE perfectly fits into the concept.

profi-air

Heat recovery ventilation - stable value guaranteed

Installation of the profi-air pipe system for heat recovery ventilation is a sustainable investment in the value of your property, since it protects the structural fabric of the building, provides a pleasant indoor climate, prevents moisture-related damage and, at the same time, increases the resale value.

The profi-air complete system by Fränkische Rohrwerke, an expert for corrugated pipes, is suitable for all installation situations in both new and existing buildings.

Due to the flow-optimised inner surface of the profi-air pipes, the air flows through the system with particularly little noise associated and resistance, which significantly reduces the total energy requirement. In addition, antistatic and antibacterial agents make the products absolutely sterile.

1

profi-air classic and profi-air tunnel

- smooth, antibacterial and antistatic inner surface
- innovative connection options – no sealing with adhesive tape
- lightweight and tightly bendable – fewer fittings required
- flow-optimised pipes and fittings (less noise, lower energy requirement)
- large flow rates possible

2

profi-air 250/400 touch ventilation units

- high heat recovery of up to 91 % due to cross-flow heat exchanger
- fully automatic summer bypass
- easy-to-handle touch-screen control unit
- integration into the home network possible: profi-air touch can be easily operated using any smartphone, laptop, tablet, or PC

profi-air mounting frame

- tool-free installation of the mounting frame
- innovative magnetic fixing of the design grill on the mounting frame: place – align – done
- compatible with all design grills
- to clean the ventilation system only the grill, not the mounting frame, must be removed starline design grill

- superior materials
- modern design
- simple magnet installation
- change of design possible at any time
- suitable for any interior design and style

sieger design ...

... meets FRÄNKISCHE brand quality. Smart functionality and at times archetypal styling distinguish the sieger design drafts – to achieve this, the design studio applies utmost sensitivity, attention to detail and forward-looking thinking. With its innovative profi-air ventilation system, FRÄNKISCHE has brought variety and flexibility onto the heat recovery ventilation (HRV) market: since the traditional manufacturer offers not only classic round pipes but also flat tunnel pipe variants for installation, both existing buildings and individually constructed new ones can be furnished with high-performance, clean, healthy and highly efficient HRV systems.

With sieger design, FRÄNKISCHE has brought the right partner on board: HRV technology meets premium design – quality meets quality. starline ventilation grills set the right highlight with regard to heat recovery ventilation.
